Guide for parents & teachers

Read this first — set up & goals · Level 1 · Ages 3–4

Set up the space

- 1 A fixed, calm spot: a table and chair at your child's size, good light, no screens nearby.
- 2 Everything in reach: marker and cloth in a small tray, so your child can fetch it and tidy up alone.
- 3 Less is more: one or two letters per session, starting with the letters of your child's name.
- 4 Freedom within limits: let your child choose the letter or the color. The only rule: follow the arrows.
- 5 Show more, talk less: draw the stroke once, slowly, then step back and let your child try.

If your child won't continue?

- 1 Drop the pressure: refusing is a message, not bad behaviour.
- 2 Check the body: is your child tired, hungry or sleepy? Is the marker hard to hold?
- 3 Make the step smaller: trace with a finger instead of the marker, or switch to an easier letter (I, L, O, T).
- 4 Change the feel: trace the letter in sand or on a tray, or build it from yarn or clay.
- 5 End on a good note: stop after 5–10 minutes and praise the effort.

If refusing goes on for weeks, or holding the marker is very hard: ask a specialist.

Tools & set-up

- 1 A4 paper and a home printer. Print at 100% (Actual size), not “Fit to page”.
- 2 A wipe-clean marker (medium tip) and a soft cloth or tissue.
- 3 A laminating pouch or a clear sleeve, so each page can be written on and wiped many times.
- 4 Optional: yarn, sand or clay — make the letter with your hands, too.

What your child will learn

- 1 Level 1 (ages 3–4): the first letters book. Your child meets each letter, traces it, finds it and hears its first sound.
- 2 Goal: know every capital and small letter, its name and its sound.
- 3 Writing path: where to start, which way to go and in what order to draw each line.
- 4 Skills: pencil control · hand-eye coordination · left-to-right tracing · matching letters to beginning sounds.
- 5 Next step: when your child traces easily and starts writing letters alone, move on to Level 2 (ABC Handwriting Workbook, ages 4–6).

Parents' guide · 1 of 2

Guide for parents & teachers

How to present each letter · Level 1 · Ages 3–4

How to present the letter

- 1 Pick a letter. Say its name and its sound clearly.
- 2 Show the page and the picture word (A... apple).
- 3 Section 1 — finger first: trace the big letters from the green number 1, following the arrows. Then the marker on the same path.
- 4 Section 2: copy the first letter, then trace the dots.
- 5 Section 3: say each word and circle the pictures that start with the letter.
- 6 Section 4: circle every capital and small letter. Color a star, and praise the effort, not perfect writing.

Talk about it

- 1 What does this letter look like? (b = a bat and a ball; l = a stick)
- 2 Where do we start: top or bottom? Which way do we go?
- 3 How many lines or curves does it need? Is there a dot?
- 4 What word starts with the same sound?
- 5 b · d · p · q look alike: what is different between them?
- 6 Can you write it in the air first? Which part was the hardest?

The letter here stands alone; its shape can change a little inside a word.

Warm-up before writing

- 1 Dough and squeezing: squeeze, roll and pinch dough to wake up the hand muscles.
- 2 Sand or fine salt: draw straight and curvy lines with a finger.
- 3 In the air: draw the letter with a big arm movement while saying its name.
- 4 Pick and place: move small beads or pom-poms with tweezers or two fingers.
- 5 Short: one or two minutes, then move to the page.

Goal: a relaxed hand before the marker.

Parents' guide · 2 of 2

Pencil grip — what's normal?

Read this first · Level 1 · Ages 3–4

Ages 2–3 · Fist grip

The whole hand holds the crayon and the arm moves. Normal at this age.

Ages 3–4 · Finger grip

Four fingers on the crayon, palm facing down. The fingers start to take over.

Ages 4–6 · Tripod grip

Thumb and index finger pinch, the crayon rests on the middle finger, the wrist moves.

All three grips are normal at their age. Don't rush it — the grip grows with the hand.

How to help

- Short, thick crayons: break crayons in half so only the fingertips fit.
- Show, don't force: hold your own pencil next to your child; avoid moving their fingers for them.
- Strong hands first: dough, picking up small things with two fingers and drawing on a wall board.
- Praise the try, not the grip. A relaxed child learns faster.
- Ask a specialist if around age 6 the fist grip has not changed, or writing hurts.
